"Life isn't about keeping score.
It's not about how many people call you and it's not about who you've dated, are dating, or haven't dated at all.
It isn't about who you've kissed, what sport you play, or which guy or girl likes you.
It's not about your shoes or your hair or the color of your skin or where you live or go to school.
In fact, it's not about grades, money, clothes, or colleges that accept you or not.
Life isn't about if you have lots of friends, or if you are alone, and it's not about how accepted or unaccepted you are.
Life just isn't about that.
But life is about who you love and who you hurt.
It's about how you feel about yourself.
It's about trust, happiness, and compassion.
It's about sticking up for your friends and replacing inner hate with love.
Life is about avoiding jealousy, overcoming ignorance, and buliding confidence.
It's about what you say and what you mean.
It's about seeing people for who they are and not what they have.
Most of all, it is about choosing to use your life to touch someone elses's in a way that could never have been achieved otherwise.
These choices are what life's about."

In Memory of Diane Harrington

Diane Harrington was a member of the Peabody Veterans Memorial High School for over a decade. She touched many students' lives. In her years here she made learning fun and encouraged many students to succeed in all aspects of life. Peabody Veterans Memorial High School was very grateful to have had such a caring person as a part of the faculty.

" When the colors of bright days shade to a deep darkness,
The pain of hurtful memories brings a tear to the eye.
When the visions of hopes and dreams seem to fade away from reality,
All that is loved seems to fade away.
When it seems that all faith is lost, with no more desire to move on,
No one to look up to, no one to help,
And no one to love,
Just look to friends and know they care.
Know that faith and passion of life will be restored.
Know that the sun will shine bright once again,
And know that the pain of loss will never overcome love.
Love that rests deep in our hearts will always prevail,
Rising above the suffering of broken hearts,
And strengthening the spirit to love once again."

Thank you for being our friend Mrs. Harrington

Graduation Song

So we talked all night about the rest of our lives. Where we're gonna be when we turn 25. I keep on thinking times will never change. Keep on thinking things will always be the same. But when we leave this year we won't be coming back. No more hanging out cause we're on a different track. And if you got something that you need to say, you better say it right now cause we don't have another day 'cause we're moving on and we can't slow down. These memories are playing like a film without sound.....We'd get so excited, we'd get so scared, laughing at ourselves thinking life's not fair and this is how it feels. As we go on we remember all the times we had together and as our lives change come whatever we will still be Friends Forever. So if we get the big jobs and we make the big money when we look back now will our jokes still be funny? Will we still remember everything we learned in school? Still be trying to break every rule? Will little brainy Bobby be the stockbroker man? Can we ever find a job that won't interfere with our tan? I keep on thinking that it's a time to fly and this is how it feels.....Will we think about tomorrow like we think about now? Can we survive it out there? Can we make it somehow? I guess I thought that this would never end and suddenly it's like we're women and men. Will the past be a shadow that will follow us 'round? Will these memories fade when I leave this town? I keep on thinking that it's not goodbye, keep on thinking that it's time to fly. As we go on, we remember, all the times we had together. And as our lives change come whatever, we will still be FRIENDS FOREVER!

A Dedication

Mr. J. Timothy Hanly

The Class of 2001 dedicates our yearbook to Mr. J. Timothy Hanly, who has been a member of the Peabody School System for the past thirty years. In this time, he has served as a guidance councelor at both the Higgins Middle School and Peabody Veterans Memorial High School. His determination and commitment have united our class in friendship as well as in spirit. He has not only met the expectations of a guidance councelor, but has exceeded above and beyond them to fulfill the dreams of his students. When it seemed that he would not be able to return for his last year due to illness, most of us worried about our future. Against his doctor's wishes, however, he returned to get his seniors into college and to provide them with other career oppurtunities. Mr. Hanly will leave with the students of the class of 2001, knowing that he was a positive influence on our lives and will remain our friend forever. We can never really sum up in words the gratitude, respect, and appreciation that we owe our great counselor, Mr. Hanly, a true member of the Class of 2001.

Class History

Who would have ever thought we would make it to this point? Yes class of 2001, the harsh reality has struck us right in the face; we are now seniors. In a few months we will be exiting this fine institution known as Peabody High, a place we have been together with the last 4 years. Once we reach 3rd quarter, the whines from college hungry seniors will come. "I can't wait to get out of this place!" Maybe we should analyze and rethink this statement. Do we really want to leave? How did we ever get here anyway?

When we were younger, we had a ton of fun. It was only eleven years ago when us seniors were enrolled in elementary school. The word "stress" had no significant meaning. No worries, no problems, it was the same routine everyday. School came along, and then you arrived home. You finished your small amounts of homework and then you turned on USA to watch your favorite cartoons such as Scooby Doo, My Little Pony, Transformers, GI Joe, etc. Dinner came along and then you went to bed. We had such great lives, the time flew by and before we knew it we were glancing at a mammoth building known as Higgins Middle School.

Our first thought was "This place is huge!" We were all intimidated and scared, not knowing what to expect. Would we meet new people and get along with our teachers? Those were questions that could be answered only in time. In the long run we met many people who are now a big part of our lives. As middle-schoolers, we looked forward to things like "Team-Time", gym class, and those memorable school dances that everyone attended. We got used to new people and teachers, waking up earlier, and taking the bus to school. Just as we started to get accustomed to life, we moved on to an even larger challenge: Peabody High School.

That first day of 9th grade can be found in the back of everyone's memory bank. We got up at what seemed to be a time when God himself had not even rose yet. We wore our new clothes and had our neat backpacks. We tried so hard to make a good first impression. Upon arrival to school, we immediately became lost and feared asking an older kid how to get to such an obscure room like "A-318". High school brought with it a rude awakening of how our lives would be changed. Tests, quizzes, and homework became harder. For all the athletes and others involved in extra-curricular activities, we realized that life would be filled and practically no free time would be seen till the weekend came. On top of all those things, the dreadful quote of "When are you going to get a job?" would be heard from your parents every time you'd ask for money.

Sophomore year came and we were more experienced. We finally stopped getting lost. We overcame our fear of speaking with upperclassmen and began to "cope" with high school. Extra-curricular activities and jobs were accepted and jammed into our over-occupied teenage lives. Life was moving so fast; it seemed like our only sources of refuge from the madness were lunch and sleep.

Before we knew it junior year rolled along, our most stressful years at Peabody High. We had to show colleges that we could perform in the classroom as well as out of school. We grew out of backpacks, and we left our scientific calculator behind, and welcomed the TI-83 graphing calculator. Responsibility grew by this time, and most kids were excited to receive their own personal Holy Grail: a license to drive. We finally felt like upperclassmen, able to arrive in the parking lot with our used vehicles. The schoolwork piled on, and we used weekends to relax our minds. Hanging out with friends, the random house party, and the restaurant known as Land and Sea became our social lives out of school.

Now we have entered our senior year. We look back on good and bad times. We lost our class advisor and friend Mrs. Diane Harrington this year; a scholarship was established in her name. Advisors and class officers have changed over the years. In the end we came out with an awesome team and we will end our year on a high note. As the last few months wind down and we prepare to exit this institution, we take with us all the memories. Memories of cancer relays and the Mr. PHS contests will always be with us. And how will we ever forget our semi-formals and proms?

Our sports teams have seen incredible success. Coach Niz's football Tanners not once, but TWICE have slain nationally acclaimed Everett. Swimming and gymnastics have had winning seasons along with indoor and outdoor track. Indoor track brought state champions in the 4x200 relay and the high jump back to Peabody High. The hockey team, boys baseball, and girls softball all hauled in GBL championships. The hockey team qualified for their first post season tournament berth in almost two decades. Stage One won the preliminary for the Grapes of Wrath in the drama festival. The chorus went to Maryland, Toronto, and Quebec, and placed in the category of "excellence". The band won Silver Medal at the 2000 MICCA Finals and Superior at Quebecs Classic Music Festival.

Once we cross that bridge and receive our diplomas, our lives will travel in different directions. Friends will be lost and new ones shall be gained. Wherever life takes us, try to follow the basic lyrical quote of rock star pioneer Bruce Springsteen. "Talk about a dream, try to make it real." Everybody has his or her own personal dream/dreams. Everyone can talk about them, but not everyone will achieve them. For yourself and for your pride, strive in life to fulfill your dreams. Prove to yourself that you can do it. The road will be long and hard but the happiness surely will last a lifetime. Good luck in all your future endeavors.

Farewell Message

"The next time we see stars, it will be over another town; the next time we take a test, it will be in another school." (The Goonies)

Members of the Class of 2001, the first class of the new millennium, as our days at PVMHS come to a close, we must reflect on the values and the lessons we have learned. PVMHS has not only taught us the lessons of algebra, English, science, and history, but it has also taught us the true meaning of friendship, commitment, dedication, and other important necessities in life. We have discovered that learning not only takes place in the classroom, but that our friends, teachers, coaches, and most importantly our parents, have had a major impact and influence on our learning experience in a positive way.

Friends have been there for us through the thick and the thin. They have been our shoulders to lean and cry on when times were tough. We've shared the stresses of college applications and the memories of the so-called "glory days" of high school. Without our friends, our days at PVMHS would have no meaning. We share special bonds that will last a lifetime. As we begin a new chapter in our life we should remember the Girl Scout Code, "Make new friends but keep the old."

As we marched through the four years of high school, each one of us has developed unforgettable relationships with that special teacher or coach. At times, these special people may have seemed like an enemy, but as we take a closer look, we realize that they have made a true impact on our lives. As the Army once said, "Be all that you can be," these teachers and coaches have pushed and encouraged us to truly be all that we can be.

A parent goes beyond the roles of a friend, teacher, and coach. They have devoted their lives to guarantee that each and every one of us will be successful in life. Their constant support and infinite love represents the dreams they have for our futures. At the very least, each one of us owes it to our parents to work hard and achieve our ultimate goals.

When we were young, some of us may have read the children's book, "Love You Forever." The child in this story is quoted saying, "I'll love you forever, I'll like you for always, as long as I'm living, my mommy you'll be." As we prepare to spread our wings and fly on to a new and exciting part of our lives, consider this quote. As long as we are living, the irreplaceable high school memories we have had at Peabody High School will never be forgotten. Most importantly we should be very thankful for the friendships we have made and the support and foundation we have gained from our families. As long as we remember all of the lessons we have learned from our friends, teachers, coaches, and parents at PVMHS we know for sure that we will all make a difference in society. "If we are the future, damn it's going to be a good."

To the class of 2001, thank you for the wonderful times. Times we will never forget. Good luck to everyone in his or her future endeavors! "Looks like we made it!"

Jim Meagher: In Memory, In Tribute

James Meagher died on August 2, 2000 at age 61--eight months after having been diagnosed with cancer and six months i retirement. For 37 years Jim taught English in the Peabody school system, having been in all three high schools--at Centra Street, at Allen's Lane and at Lowell Street.

As a young teacher, Jim Meagher was as intense as his red hair and as cool as his blue eyes and horn-rimmed glasses. J was known for his sardonic sense of humor and the tart tongue to express it. He (was) part of what an older teacher called th "Young Turks"--challenging authority, active in the union, outspoken for teacher and students' rights, creative and commit the classroom, and playing pranks in the faculty rooms! As Jim got older and blonder, he kept up his passion for the antique cars and modern Volvos he owned, for car racing and for walking. He had hoped in retirement to write about his 1950s hot r club--the "Choppers" in Salem--and the drag-racing strip here in Peabody, but it wasn't to be. He loved his family, old clock dogs, crime novels, politics, poetry and rock'n roll. He reveled in hot summer days and starry nights. Jim liked to cook, to landscape and garden, to build things like walls, patios and models. He could certainly talk and he could write.

And he brought it all to the classroom in his laid back way--the humor, the hobbies, the love of history and literature. Stu dents were glad to get Mr. Meagher for Senior English; he was fair, flexible, compassionate and funny. Jim's personality an style could motivate the most unmotivated. Respect and honesty were the keys. Oh, Jim had edges, too. He could be stubborr had no patience for fools, manipulators, shrieking voices or, in the faculty room, cooking fish in the microwave!! And we all it!!

I taught next door to Jim for over 30 years, and so I speak about one of us. He, Ed Gorman, Tom Callahan, and Roy Faria w my mentors. Jim was also my friend. To all those who knew him, argued with him and laughed with him, Jim has left a pers legacy that we can share with those who did not, that is to glory in the gift of each day and the clarity of the night, to be hones true to who we are and to what we bring to the classroom, to this profession where we shape people's lives.

Thanks, Jim for "being."

Mrs. Hague

The Peabody Tanner Football Team had yet another successful season winning the GBL championship for the second straight year. They shared the title with the "likes" of Everett and Waltham. The Tanners started off the season on a high note, beating crosstown rival, Salem, and gaining revenge from last years defeat against Arlington. The Tanners showed their strength when they beat the GBL powerhouse, Everett, 6-0, on a Ray Lamonica 99-yard interception return. The team went on to win their next 5 games before losing a heartbreaker to Waltham in the second to last game of the year. The blue and white's superbowl hopes were diminished but they finished strong with a 22-6 Thanksgiving day win over Saugus. Six members of the team were named league all-stars including Ray Lamonica, Ryan Mulvey, Charley Siopis, Joe Fermano, Caleb Pelger, and Grant Miller. All in all it was a very successful season for the Tanners and the future is looking great as usual. The tradition continues...

During the season, the squad placed first at the Gloucester and Medford competitions and came in second at the Bishop Fenwick Invitational. Everyone had a great time being on and cheering for a winning team! Good luck next year!

Boys' Soccer

The Peabody Boys Varsity Soccer Team competed through a tough first half of the season to finish off strong, winning six of their last ten games. This year's team had 16 seniors, all hoping to make it to the MIAA tournament. Even though the team fell short of a tournament berth, the season was highlighted by big wins over 2nd-ranked Medford and cross-town rival Bishop Fenwick. The team finished with a record of 6-10-2. Captains Robert Legrow and Vincent Pace lead the Tanners on the defensive end, while captains Phil Naworksi and Jared Yagjian battled sickness and injury to lead the offense. Senior midfielder Manole Agouridis contributed to the offense along wih Samir Zepaj. Rob Legrow was honored by being named EMASS All-Star. Manole Agouridis and Vincent Pace were named GBL Stars.
